How good and plea - sant must it be To thank the Lord most high;
With ev' - ry mor - ning's ear - ly dawn His good - ness to re - late;
For through thy won - drous works, O Lord, Thou mak'st my heart re-joice;

How good and plea - sant must it be To thank the Lord most high;
With ev' - ry mor - ning's ear - ly dawn His good - ness to re - late;
For through thy won - drous works, O Lord, Thou mak'st my heart re-joice;

Notes: Original order of staves is 2d. - 1st. - [Instrumental bass] in the opening symphony, and Tenor - [Alto] - Treble - [Bass] - [Instrumental bass] thereafter. The 2nd part of the symphonies during and after the verse is given on the tenor stave in the source, but is given on the Alto stave in the present edition. The alto part is notated in the treble clef at the upper octave in the source. The second, third and fourth verses of the text are printed after the music in the source, and have here been underlaid editorially. The last word of the last verse is printed in the source as 'voices'.

How good and pleasant must it be (Thomas Clark)

And with re - peat - ed hymns of praise His name to
 And of his con - stant truth, each night, The glad ef -
 The thoughts of them shall make me glad, And shout with

His name to
 The glad ef -
 And shout with

And with re - peat - ed hymns, re - peat - ed hymns of praise His name to
 And of his con - stant truth, his con - stant truth, each night, The glad ef -
 The thoughts of them shall make, of them shall make me glad, And shout with

His name to
 The glad ef -
 And shout with
